4  2  2

This extraordinarily beautiful four-bedroom, two-bathroom, one level, Victorian Italianate home occupies a commanding position within what is without doubt Tasmania's most prestigious suburb, Battery Point.

This suburb and indeed this particular street retain so many historically significant, diverse and extremely interesting buildings and homes.

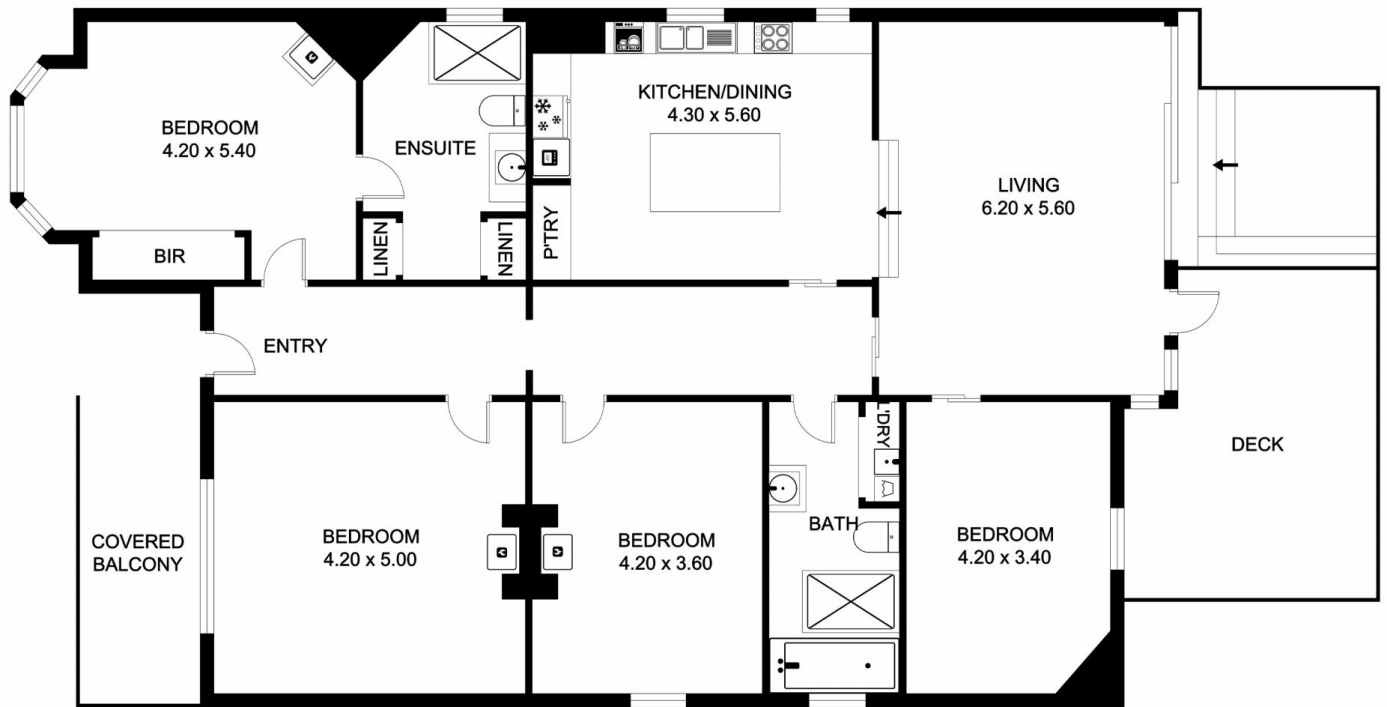

The magnificent St Georges Anglican Church shares the same street and was chosen for its elevation as the highest point within the suburb yet, is situated on near level grounds. Cromwell Street itself is broad and easily negotiated, something that can't be said for many of Battery Points many throughfares.

This home boasts so many original features in-tact
